MY GARDEN—

(From the New York Times.)

Were you ever in a garden on a fragrant summer night
When the silvery rain had slackened and the moon was shining bright
Through the broken clouds above you
As the stars came out to keep their tryst with fairy blossoms
That would open in their sleep?
When the scent of mint and clover rose like incense on the air
And the corn's fantastic tassels waved like specters grim and spare?

Tall sunflowers at the corners, their faces bending low
As if their bed-time's coming and you forget the world is soiled
And your body aches with toil
When you comprehend the glories
You've awakened from the soil.
You see the moons wild magic and no conceit seems vain
When you smell and see and hear and feel—a garden drenched with rain.

—Jessamine S. Fishback, State Organizer National Republican League, of Arkansas.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS—

Twine Holder.

A practical twine holder for the kitchen is a tin funnel that may be hung on the wall and the twine pulled out through the opening at the bottom.

Clean Bathtub.

Kerosene is excellent for removing the deposit left on the sides of a porcelain bathtub after a soapy bath.

Chandeliers.

Gilt chandeliers may be cleaned by rubbing with a cut lemon followed by a sponging with tepid suds and white baking soda in the proportion of a teaspoonful of soda to a pint of water.

Paint Brushes.

Never allow paint brushes to stand on their bristles while drying. Moisten them with paraffin oil before putting them away if they are not to be used again for some time.

"Warming Closet."

An improvised "warming closet" for dishes may be made by standing the plates on edge in a wire dish drainer and putting the drainer on the radiator.

Clean Floor.

To have your hardwood floor bright and clean use only a little oil on it and never use the oil until the floor has been dusted with a dry mop or swept with a hair brush.

GUESTS AT THE DR. CASE HOME SUNDAY—

Mrs. Edward B. Case, and Miss Carrie Hauser of the North Shore Hotel, Evanston; Mrs. Winnifred Case Vail and Allan B. Benedict of Chicago, have been guests over the weekend of the home of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Case in this city. Mr. Benedict is a noted organist and presided at the organ at the organlude given at the Presbyterian church at Vespers.

Dept. Sec'y. American Legion Auxiliary Here

The members of the Auxiliary to Dixon Post No. 12, held a meeting Wednesday evening in G. A. R. hall, which was attended by about fifty members and guests.

After the business of the evening was transacted, the Department Secretary, Mrs. J. L. Murray, conducted a question box, which was of much interest to all members.

Afterwards a most enjoyable program was given, including a reading by Kathleen Nagle, and an instrumental solo by May Mueller. The program was given in honor of the anniversary of George Washington's birthday, Feb. 22nd. The principal feature of the program was the patriotic address by Chaplain John Earle of Dixon Legion Post No. 12. He is an eloquent speaker and greatly pleased his audience.

The president of the Dixon American Legion Auxiliary presented to the Department Secretary, Mrs. Murray, a beautiful cut glass bon bon dish, a pretty courtesy acknowledged with gracious thanks by Mrs. Murray.

At the conclusion of the program delightful refreshments of ice cream and cake were served and a happy social hour was enjoyed.

The young women serving were prettily gowned in the Washington costume and were the Misses Minnie Hardesty, May Brady, and Mrs. Kurzrock, and those assisting in the kitchenette were Mrs. Pearl Bovey and Mrs. Belle Lilevan.

The Auxiliary is planning to hold a card party next Wednesday afternoon in G. A. R. hall, which they hope will be well patronized.

Seventy-fourth Birthday Was Celebrated

Saturday evening at the attractive home of Herman Missman on West Fourth street, his sisters, Mrs. W. W. Heckman of West Third street and Mrs. Anna Moore of Third street and his only brother, M. W. Missman of Brinton avenue, called to assist him in celebrating his seventy-fourth birthday anniversary. It was a quiet, family affair, but most enjoyable and Mr. Missman told his guests of his early boyhood days when he lived on the home farm, when wolves and deer were plentiful and when the C. & N. W. railroad terminated at Dixon. The evening slipped by swiftly in the viewing of birthday cards and greetings and gifts, and on departing the guests wished Mr. Missman and his estimable wife many added years of happiness.

WERE GUESTS AT DINNER IN STERLING—

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Robinson entertained twenty-five of their relatives and friends at a 6:30 dinner on Friday evening at the Galt House in Sterling. Their guests were afterward taken to the Robinson home where "500" was played through the evening. Prizes for high score was awarded Mrs. Clara Ashling and Geo. D. Stone, and for low score to Mr. and Mrs. George H. Stone. The rooms of the home were beautifully decorated in patriotic colors, carrying out the Washington Day idea. Attending from out of the city were Mr. and Mrs. Russell May and Miss Lenora Gooch of Dixon.

Ladies' Social Circle Prairieville Picnic

The Ladies' Social Circle of the Prairieville church held their annual mid-winter picnic at the Prairieville church Friday with 85 in attendance.

At 1 o'clock one of the most delicious lunches was served, the tables being prettily decorated in keeping with the day, and also through the generosity of Leroy Powers beautiful blooming plants adorned the table.

The four ministers who supply the pulpit were present, Rev. E. C. Harris and wife, Rev. David Cruen and wife, Rev. H. Hitchins and wife, and Rev. R. Callaway and wife.

During the afternoon a very interesting program was carried out. Rev. Harris presiding as chairman.

The program was opened by singing America, followed by short talks by the ministers. Vocal numbers by Mrs. Ira Rutt, Mrs. Rae Kreider and Mrs. Wilbur Meyers, accompanied by Mrs. J. Linn and Miss Ruth Erickson, were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. S. S. Royer, Mrs. C. C. Straw and Mrs. Fred Friedrichs each gave a most enjoyable reading.

Everyone departed voting it one of the most enjoyable picnics ever held in Prairieville.

The next regular meeting of the Circle will be held with Mrs. Charles Reid north of Prairieville on March 5th.

IF LANDIS DON'T OBJECT.

It is surely a worth-while idea, that of George F. Mara, executive director in charge of the arrangements committee of the democratic national committee.

Mr. Mara favors holding the national convention, for which New York recently outbid
several other cities, in either the Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds. The National and American league schedules are so arranged that playing dates do not conflict. One of the great baseball parks in therefore always without a game. Mr. Mara is confident the convention can catch some of the overflow crowd. He does not suggest what admission prices should be charged, but New York is a good show town. Properly advertised, the affair should pull a big gate. There is no dearth of big attractions for the event.
Among the headliners might be mentioned
William J. Bryan and William G. McAdoo.
These two might be expected to hold a love feast now that William G. has espoused William J.'s dry cause. Then there will be Al Smith, not so dry but probably chuckling because William G., in Al's opinion, is pulling a "boner" in coming into a demo. convention
wearing dry clothes. Also there will be Mr.
Doheny, Senator Mayfield of Texas, Governor Park of Louisiana, Charles F. Murphy of Tammany hall, John W. Davis from the court of St. James, Jim Reed and Jim Cox.
There would be plenty of attractions for the inlanders.

The convention could not hope to outshine
Babe Ruth before a Gotham crowd, but it could pay expenses. If Nick Altrock and Hughie Jennings were hired for the occasion, perhaps most of the regular fans could be held in line. Lucky scorecards should be sold to favorite sons, and pink tinted ice cream cones should be free.

THE TARIFF RATE.

When your Uncle Samuel checked up his cash register on the night of December 31, 1923, he found that his receipts from customs revenues had reached the unprecedented total of $582,764,105. That was on the importation of $3,796,938,000 worth of foreign goods, wares and merchandise, which means that the average rate of duty on all imports for the year was a slight fraction over 15 percent—not a prohibitive rate by any means. It was considerably lower than the old republican law enacted in 1909 and in operation until 1913, the average duty rate throughout its lifetime being about 20 percent and it was just a trifle higher than the democratic law of 1913, the average of which
for the first year of its existence was 14.88 percent. And, it may be added, imports in 1923 increased just 100 percent over 1914
when the total was $1,894,000,000.

AN ASSAULT ON POOR RICHARD.

An exhaustive search in many archives has established beyond all cavil that Benjamin Franklin did write lyrics as well as furthering musical art by inventing the harmonica.
A musical magazine makes much of it and even produces several sets of verses, none of which will incline the casual reader to displace Robert Burns.

It is odd they can't let Franklin rest on his already ample fame. A fine thing it will be if every man's verses are to be dragged out for posterity to quiz, since few men there be who have not, or do not, or do not intend to, write a jingle or so. The versifying instinct is inherent in the human race. Men of blameless occupations yield to the impulse and give expression to their emotions or their whimsicalities in rhyme.

Usually the passion, like whooping cough
and measles, make its attack while the victim is young. Adult life is supposed to bring immunity, although it is true that some never succeed in shaking it off but find it, like a winter cold, returning faithfully at certain seasons.

Mr. Franklin apparently was only a mediocre song-writer, which gives him coman-ionship with the multitude. It is unjust to hold it against him.

MEN AND CATERPILLARS.

Perhaps it never occurred to the reader to compare people and caterpillars unless he has read an account of an experiment by Fabre, the French naturalist.

Fabre took a lot of caterpillars, accommodated to moving in columns, and draped them in a circle, upon a narrow ledge running around the outside of an earthenware jar.
The insects were placed head to tail, all the way around. They started crawling forward.
There was no leader, and therefore every one was a leader. But every one evidently thought of himself as a follower, and humped himself to keep up with the one ahead.

Around and around these silly caterpillars
moved, in a solemn parade, at uniform speed.
Any one of them could have turned aside at any moment and changed the course of the whole procession, but they kept it up for three days and a half, and would have died on that purposeless round if they had not been turned aside by some chance diversion.
When you think it over, are not human beings very much like that, in most of their activities?

McAdoo's star is setting. He isn't likely to see his shadow before the New York convention meets.

Mirrors are great things. They show you some one you think you can trust.

The hardest time for a man to get up in the world is in the morning.

Generally speaking, too many people are generally speaking.

A live wire is a much nicer thing to be

Representative Longworth says the House
may start holding night sessions. Says members talk so much their work is not being

If all this Teapot racket can be kicked up in day sessions, night arguments would be just that much more noise.

Holding more sessions is like hitting a man in the head to cure his headache. That gives him two headaches to worry about.

SOCIETY.

Mr. Colt, a former Ethel Barrymore hus-

TEAPOT NEWS.

Due to labor troubles the New England as-

ADVENTURES
OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

THE SEVEN-LEAGUE BOOTS

And the good lady sat down in a rocking chair.

"Now then, good wife," said hold, Nancy landed in one of the Farmer Giant when dinner was over, seven-league boots and Nick in the other.

"What is it, good wife?" cried Mr. Giant, rushing in to see what the trouble was about. "Is it robbers?"

"Ugh!" exclaimed Mrs. Giant, giving herself a great shake. "It was two bugs! They were in my thimble!"

At that very minute Nancy was saying, away down in her boot, "Now I've lost Nick. I wish I was out of this!"

And Nick was saying down in the bottom of his boot, "I wish I was away from here. Now I've lost Nancy."

But of course, the Twins still had on the magic green shoes that the Fairy Queen had given them to climb
the Beanstalk with, that obeyed
every wish they made.

So you know what happened! The seven-league boots began to take steps the minute the Twins finished wishing. And right before the astonished eyes of the giant family, the boots walked calmly out of the front door and down the road to the Market Town.

"They are bewitched!" cried Mr.
Giant.

"Let them go," declared Mrs. Giant.
"Good riddance, I call it, to bad rubbish."

GIVE THE BOY SCOUTS

CREDIT

BY BERTON BRALEY

That rough little, tough little gong of boys

That used to break windows galore,
That deafened our ears with continual noise—

It doesn't act so any more.
What's happened? That bunch used to give us a pang.

We shuddered with fear at its shouts:

What's happened? Why, neighbor,
the neighborhood gang

Has gone and joined up with the Scouts!

Their leader, whom grown-ups regarded as a

As head of a mischievous crew,
Has found, with the Scouts, just a peach of a chance

To do what he's wanted to do:
He's boss of his troop, and he makes them behave

Without any question or doubts, He's learned that he needn't be bad to be brave.

A lesson that's taught by the Scouts.

Oh, boys will be boys; and experience shows

That boys WILL belong to a gang,
But organized RIGHT—as the scout master knows—

Their energy, vigor and tang
Will fashion a clean, snappy, likable
troop

From reckless and impish young sprouts.

And that's what's been done with our neighborhood group.

They've gone and joined up with the Scouts!

GULBRANSEN
The Registering PianoFew Kinds of Fun
Outrival the Gulbransen

When Dad's day's work is done he's entitled to some fun of his own. He's earned a little time to himself. A spell of rest, a change, something different from the usual grind—that's what he needs.

So why should folks be fussy about little things like keeping dinner waiting when a fellow is right in the midst of an all-absorbing, body-and-soul-satisfying little session of music—played by himself and for himself—on his beloved Gulbransen!

Few pleasures afford so complete a change from the workaday grind. Few are so fascinating. Few so thoroughly enjoyable.

Playing is unbelievably easy
because of Gulbransen responsiveness and extreme flexibility. And—with your Gulbransen—you get four simple, complete and exclusive Instruction Rolls
showing a method of correct playing.

Do you wonder the Gulbransen appeals so completely to the thousands upon thousands of Dads and Mothers,
and sons and daughters, who love good music played easily?

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

Your letter, my dear Leslie, was full of the most astounding news. First, I was greatly surprised that Dick told you we had broken our engagement. You notice I say "we", for although I think the idea was put into words by me I am sure the thought was in Dick's brain long before I voiced it.

I have come to the conclusion, dear, all of our traditions in regard to the sexes, their psychology, their proclivities and their real place in life are wrong.

I had always believed a man kept his secrets, especially when it was a love secret, but here I find Dick talking over the breaking of our engagement with you quite calmly. Rather ridiculous—isn't it?

The more I see of men—and the more I hear about them—the nearer I come to thinking there is no particular difference between men and women. Men's animal qualities may be a little stronger, but in all human and psychological attributes they are the same.

What you say about Paula Perier is also most astounding. I remember her when I visited in Albany some years ago. She was then thought to be extremely beautiful, but an extremely frivolous girl. Much was forgiven her because she had to earn her own living. Many of her sensational actions were excused because she was French.

I cannot imagine her anything like you describe as "a woman who has come out of the fiery furnace of suffering, refined and made better."

That's all right, my dear, as far as it goes. If experience does not make us better it always makes us worse. There is no such thing as a character standing still, you know.

However, I'm afraid I would never have invited that woman to my house if I thought the child I had adopted was the child she had abandoned. I do not consider myself below the average woman in sympathy and understanding. Leslie, but honestly I never could have sympathized enough with Paula Perier to ask her to take that child in her arms, knowing all the time she was his mother.

I guess I'm old-fashioned, Leslie.

but I still have a kind of queer feeling when I meet—as one does often lately—a woman who through a great love or a great mistake has strayed from the strict path of virtue.

I sometimes wonder if that crown of glory has been lost entirely that was always supposed to have been the halo surrounding the virtuous woman. Nowadays we seem to make no difference between her and her unchaste sister.

When you take away the feeling that a spotless reputation is nothing particularly to be desired, you take away the foundation of society.

Probably Dick and I would never have hit it off together after his movie experience. I should always feel I could not trust him. I should always feel he was probably keeping something in his mind very different from that which he was telling me.

I am glad, however, you saw him and told me all about it. It breaks another link of the chain between us.

Lovingly,
 BEE.

DIXON AND POLO HIGH QUINTETS IN HARD BATTLE

Locals on Top at End of Game Which Was Full of Many Thrills.

In a hotly contested battle with Polo at the high school gym Saturday evening, Dixon emerged victors by a score of 17 to 15. After suffering a defeat last week on the large floor at Belvidere the Dixon quintet came back strong and in spite of the persistent efforts of the Polo boys, they were able to show two points to the good at the end of the game.

The game started out with a rush and before the large audience realized what was happening the Polo boys made a basket. This was soon followed by a similar stunt by Streigl and Rosecrans for the locals. The first round ended 2 to 4 in Dixon's favor.

Although little scoring was done in the second quarter, this period proved quite as exciting as the first, all the players fighting hard. The teams appeared evenly matched and no one dared hazard a guess as to the final outcome. The half ended with Polo showing a gain but Dixon still in the lead, the score being 5-5.

During the intermission at the half, rooters from both Polo and Dixon gave vent to an unusual amount of school spirit and the crowd was on tiptoes when the players came onto the floor.

The third quarter was decidedly Dixon's. The boys added 8 points to their credit, making a score of 7-14 at the close of this session.

The last quarter saw three field goals and two free throws fall into the hoop for Polo, this adding 8 to their score. In this quarter Dixon made 3 points, bringing the final figures up to 15-17 in Dixon's favor.

Streigl and Rosecrans tied for honors in tossing in baskets, each scoring 6 points. Schoen of Polo scored a like number of points, all of which he made in the last quarter.

The Dixon high school is eagerly awaiting next Friday's match when the boys will meet the Sterling bunch here. Undoubtedly the gym will be packed to capacity.

The line-up Saturday evening was: Dixon—Leahy, Thorn, McKeeney, rt.; Wickes, lf.; Streigl, c.; Rosecrans, rk.; Ryneerson, lg.

Polo—Wilson, rt.; Schoen, lf.; Geary, c.; Keeney, rk.; Florence, lg.

Referee—Hart, of Purdue.

TEN TELEPHONE COMMANDMENTS No. 1 and 2

1. Answer the telephone immediately. Two per cent of all calls that are made are wasted because the party calling gets impatient at delays and hangs up his receiver.
2. Eliminate the waste of words that results from saying "Hello." Avoid preliminaries by announcing your name or that of your department or company. On answering the call say "Mr. Blank speaking"

AVOIDING FAT CURES

The best way to reduce your surplus fat is to stop the amount of fat-producing foods which you either knowingly or unknowingly eat every day.

The people who make and market fat cures are skillful students of human nature. They know that when most people get fat they have a desire to get thin.

In other words, the so-called fat cures are built along the path of least resistance and appeal to those who wish to do the trick of turning from one kind of person to another by simply swallowing a little dope, or rubbing on some potent fat reducing salve, that will cause your extra adipose to fade away like mist before the morning sun.

But the fact is, it can't be done with

Are you too thin? Then take any degree of safety. Diet selection must be governed by certain fixed factors, and a carefully acquired knowledge of real food values.

If one will but study the proper food required to keep the metabolic process in perfect working order, a diet for flexible muscles, solid bones, firm teeth, normal flesh and a perfect life stream with correct weight will result.

Don't let the flashy advertisements that spell your ruin physically draw you into the clutches of the "fat faker." It hardly seems necessary for a physician to issue any such advice, but present conditions seem to warrant it. The heart is often the first to feel the damaging effects of fat reducing nostrums.

When I say you should eat less, you do not have to "fast or go" hungry. Your own physician will give you the advice necessary for proper food and exercise.

In taking any fake fat cures you are in danger of attacking the body at a vital point with fatal results.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

To do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased.—Heb. 13:16.

To feel much for others, and little for ourselves; to restrain our selfish, and exercise our benevolent affections, constitutes the perfection of human nature.—Adam Smith.

Annual Jiggs Dinner of Dixon Kiwanians

At the regular weekly meeting of the Dixon Kiwanis club to be held Tuesday noon in the guild rooms at St. Luke's church, a typical program and luncheon will feature. To start with, the club will enjoy its annual Jiggs dinner. The program to follow will consist of three short but snappy talks on the subject, "The Dixon Chamber of Commerce, Guaranteed."

One Rogers will be chairman of the session and every member of the club is urged to be present.
